Then choose one profession to write about. Do NOT write the name of the professions in your description. Do NOT let anyone know which profession you chose to write about. You should think about:

1. Where does the professional work (in an office or outside)?
2. Did the person go to a university?
3. Does the person earn much money?
4. Does the person work alone or with other people?
5. Can the person become famous?

WRITE YOUR DESCRIPTION HERE:

Now take turns reading your descriptions while your classmates try to guess which profession you described. The person that guesses your description first, gets to read his/her description to the class.

IF TIME ALLOWS: The instructor chooses a profession and tells one student. The other students must ask YES/NO questions ONLY to discover the profession. The first one to guess correctly chooses a different profession and the other students ask YES/NO questions ONLY to guess the profession.
