AFTER THE PARTY - OFFICE GOSSIP

Teacher's note: get 6 pieces of paper, number them 1 to 6 and have each student draw one to see which character they will be. Read the situation below to students. Then, show them, one at a time, what they saw. Do NOT let them see what the others did.

It's 8:00 a.m. on Monday. There was an office party last Friday and all of you did something embarrassing. Now, you are all on a coffee break. It's the first time that you have met since the party; each one is trying to explain his/her own behavior. Confront the person you saw doing something embarrassing and ask him/her to explain. Remember that you too will be confronted to explain your behavior, even though you don't exactly remember what you did.

1. Ana (blonde): you looked through the open kitchen door and saw Bobby kiss the boss's wife.
2. Val: you saw Ana take lots of candy and chocolate from the table and put them in her purse.
3. Bobby: you heard Meg tell blonde jokes while Ana (who is a blonde) could overhear. However, Meg did not realize this.
4. Chris: you saw Ted, who reckons he is a fantastic singer, dance and act like a fool at the karaoke.
5. Ted: you saw Chris come out of the bathroom with some toilet paper stuck to her shoe for 5 minutes before noticing. She cried after noticing, but she doesn't remember now.
6. Meg: you saw Val start to strip on the dance floor. Her boyfriend left her there.

If time allows: Change roles and repeat the activity. Change any embarrassing acts if you want.
