

LISTENING

#08

1 – Listen to Ted and Susan talking about their plans for Saturday. Pay attention to what Susan has scheduled, the times of her appointments, and how she feels about her busy day. Notice how Ted tries to suggest alternatives and how Susan responds.

Date Activities

1 - Why does the man ask the woman about Saturday?

- a) To know her schedule
- b) To invite her to do something
- c) To remind her about work

2 - How does Susan respond when Ted asks if she's busy?

---

3 - What is Susan's first activity on Saturday?

---

4 - Why is Susan worried about her appointment?

- a) She doesn't like going there
- b) She has canceled twice before
- c) It is too late in the afternoon

5 - Who does Susan meet at 2:00 PM?

---

6 - What does Susan have to do at 5:30 PM?

---

7 - How does Susan say she feels about her Saturday?

---

8 - Why can't Ted and Susan watch a movie at home?

---

9 - What does Susan suggest Ted should do before coming over?

---

Full Name _____

READING COMPREHENSION

Keeping Life in Balance

Weekends can be both exciting and stressful, especially when there are many tasks to complete. For some people, Saturdays are a time to relax, catch up on hobbies, or spend time with friends. Others might have chores, appointments, or family responsibilities that make the day feel packed.

Balancing activities is not always easy. Some students spend a large part of their weekend helping at home, attending lessons, or working on school projects. These responsibilities can teach time management and planning skills, but they can also feel overwhelming when everything seems to happen at once.

Finding a few hours for leisure is important. Even a short walk in a nearby park, reading a book, or playing a game with family or friends can help reduce stress. Leisure activities allow the mind to rest and provide energy for the following week.

Planning is key. Making a list of tasks and prioritizing them can help people avoid feeling rushed. It also helps in spotting small gaps in the schedule for fun activities. Communication is another important factor. Letting family and friends know your availability can prevent misunderstandings and last-minute changes.

Everyone's weekend is different. Some enjoy complete relaxation, while others thrive on being productive. The main goal is to find a balance between responsibilities and enjoyment so that weekends are refreshing, not exhausting.

Comprehension Questions

1. What can make weekends stressful for some people?

_____

2. How can responsibilities help students?

_____

3. What is one benefit of taking short breaks or doing leisure activities?

_____

4. Do you usually have a busy or relaxed weekend? How do you manage your time?

_____

_____

5. What do you like to do during your free time on weekends?

_____

_____